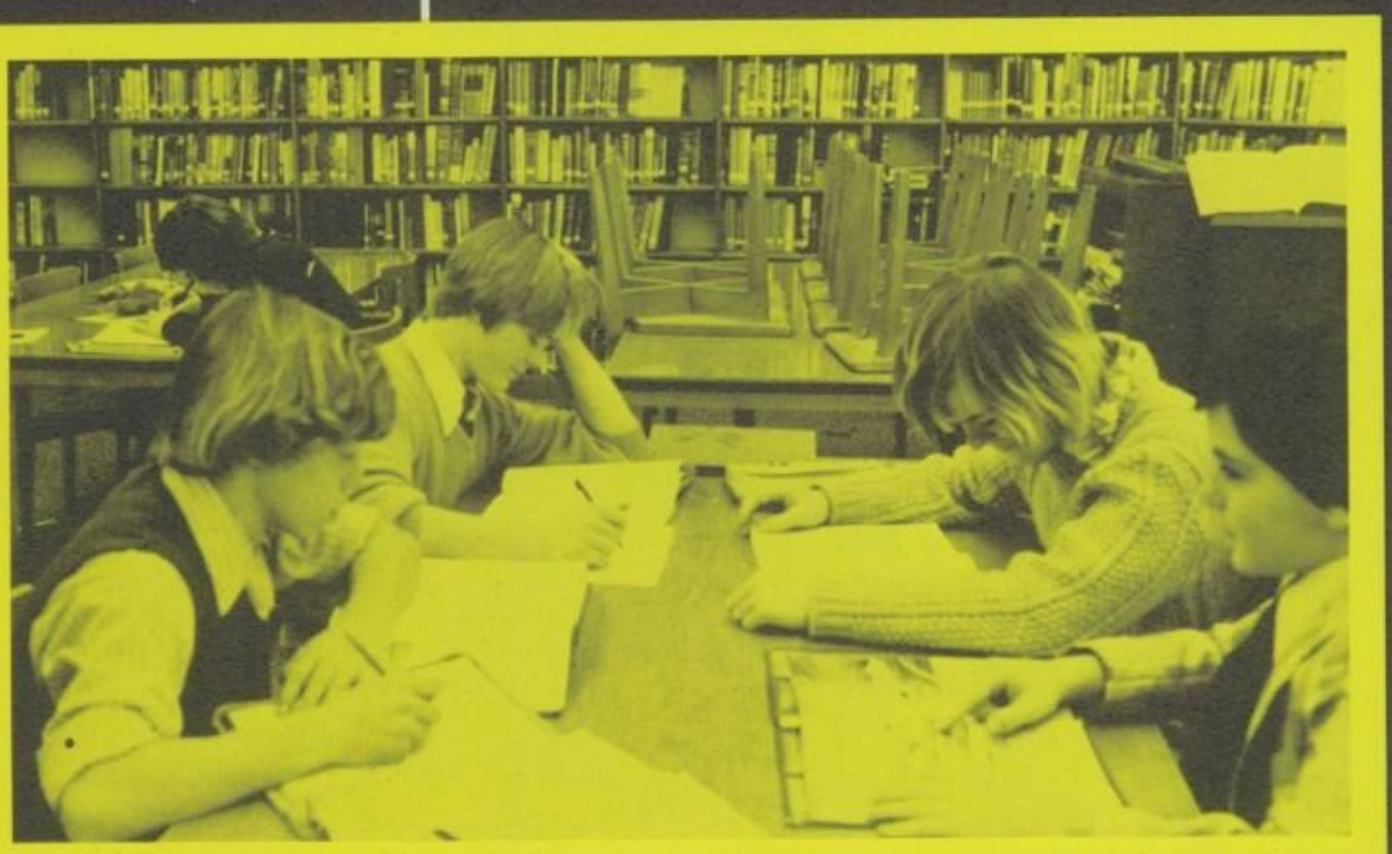
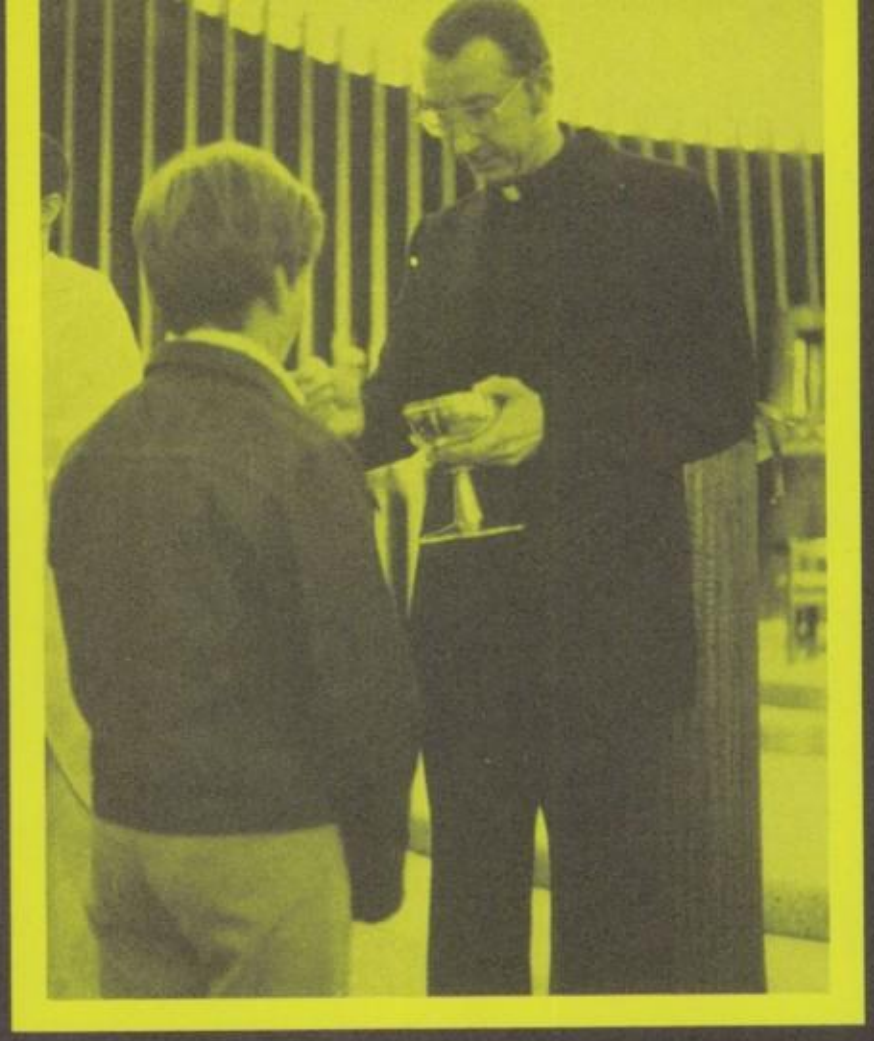
Preparation Establishes Foundations For Success

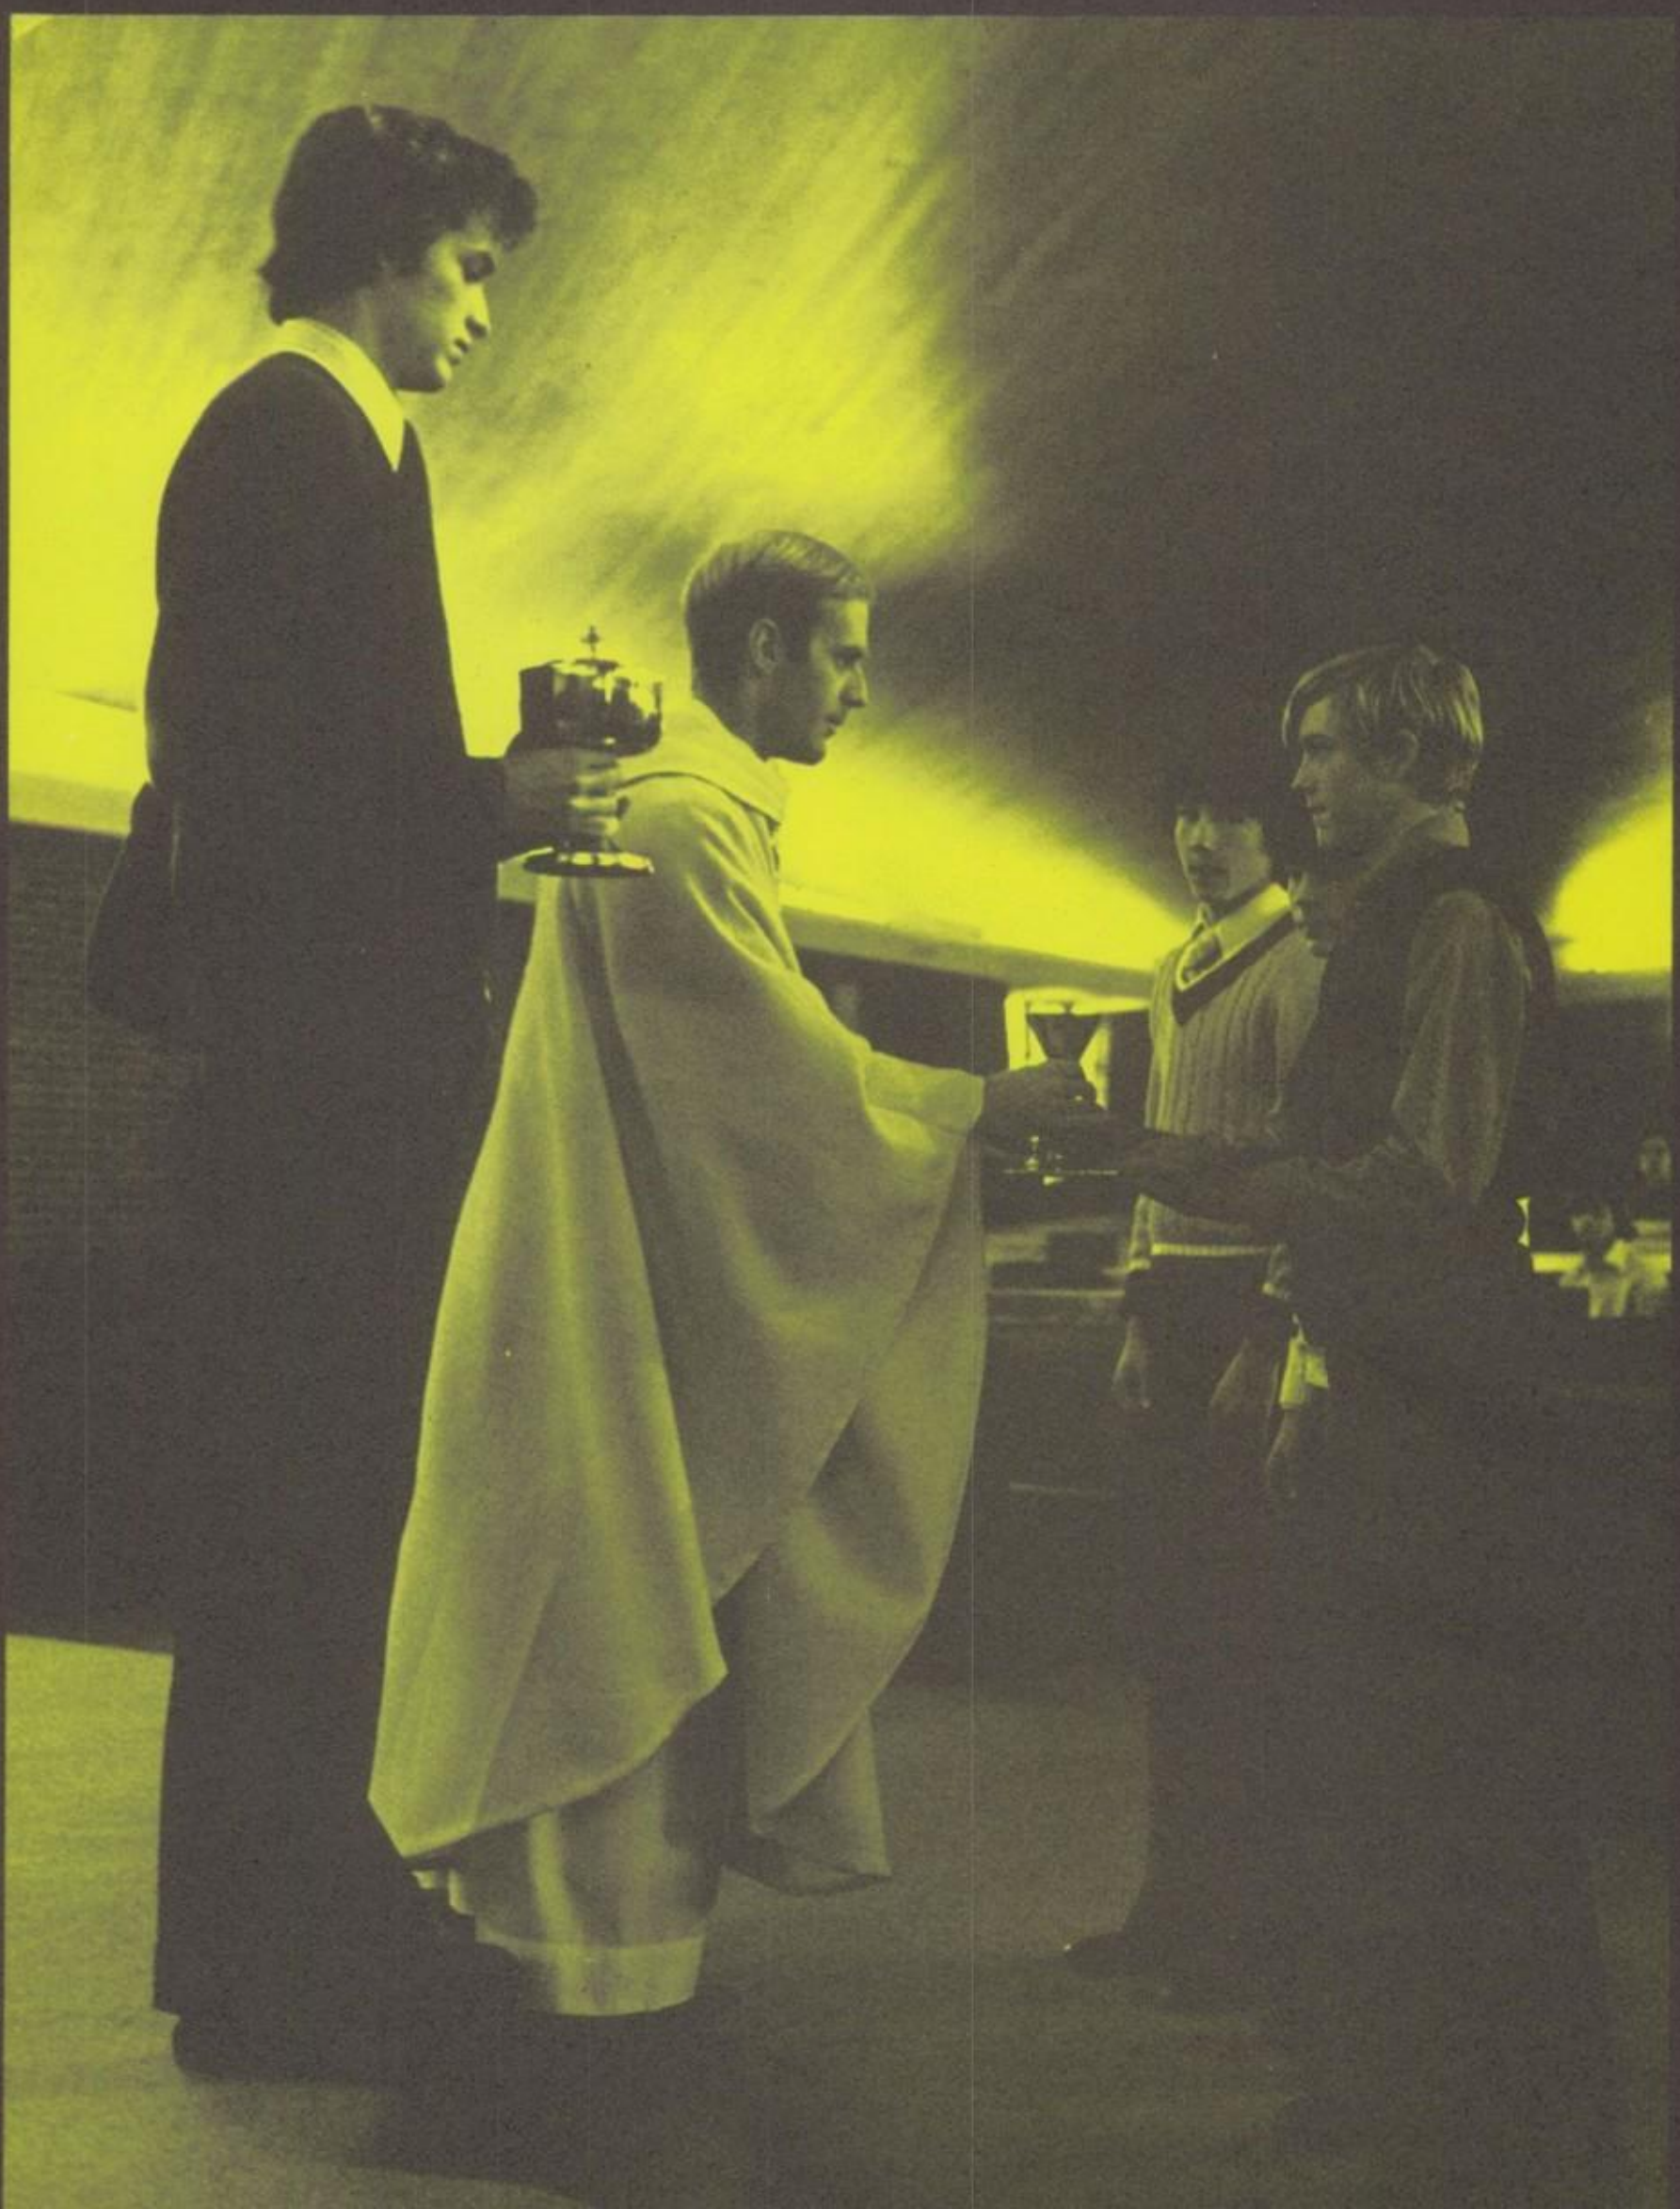


Long nights over books, tiring hours of practice, not quitting when the going gets tough . . . Many have learned that nothing comes easy in life. It is the perseverance in preparation that will make real those visions of success. Molding the dreams of youth into reality takes constant and tireless will and to those who travel this road, it is always evident.



Christ Guides In Personal Fulfillment

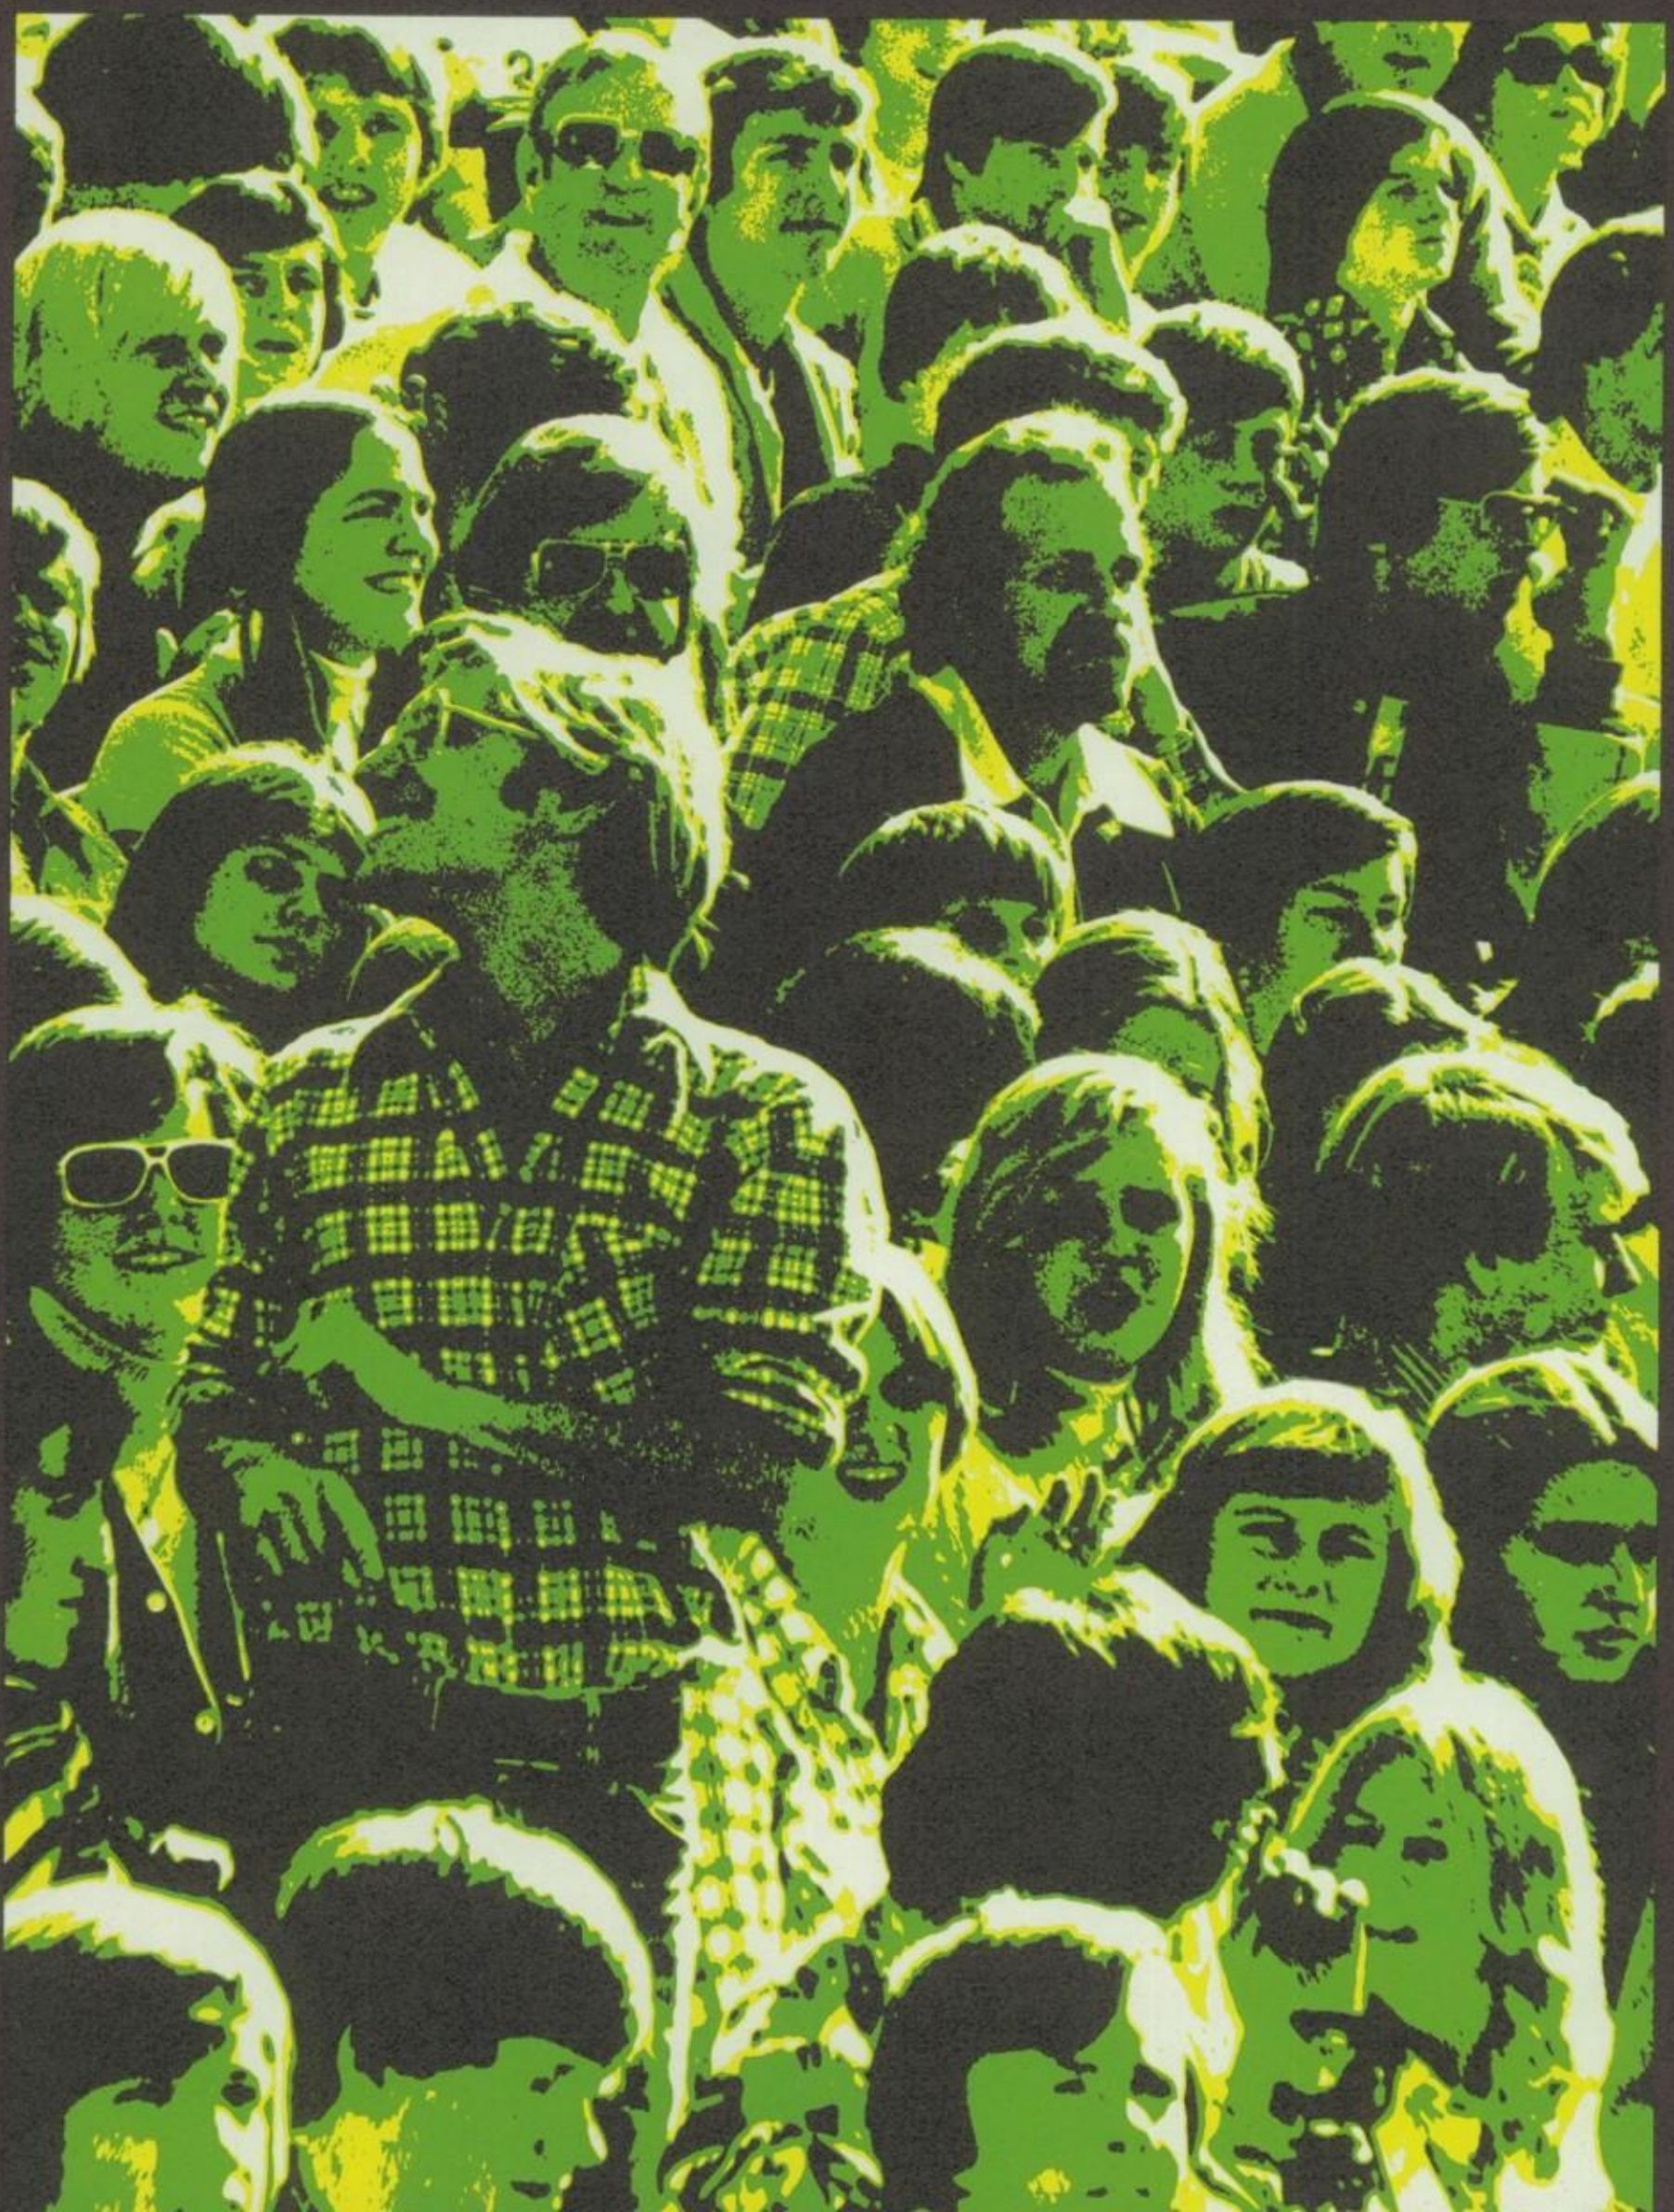
In the pursuit of life's personal goals often the self will become the center of concern. The Christian environment encourages success for the benefit of others by using Christ's guidelines and following His example of brotherly love and concern. When people's welfare is affected, the personal feeling of achievement is multiplied.



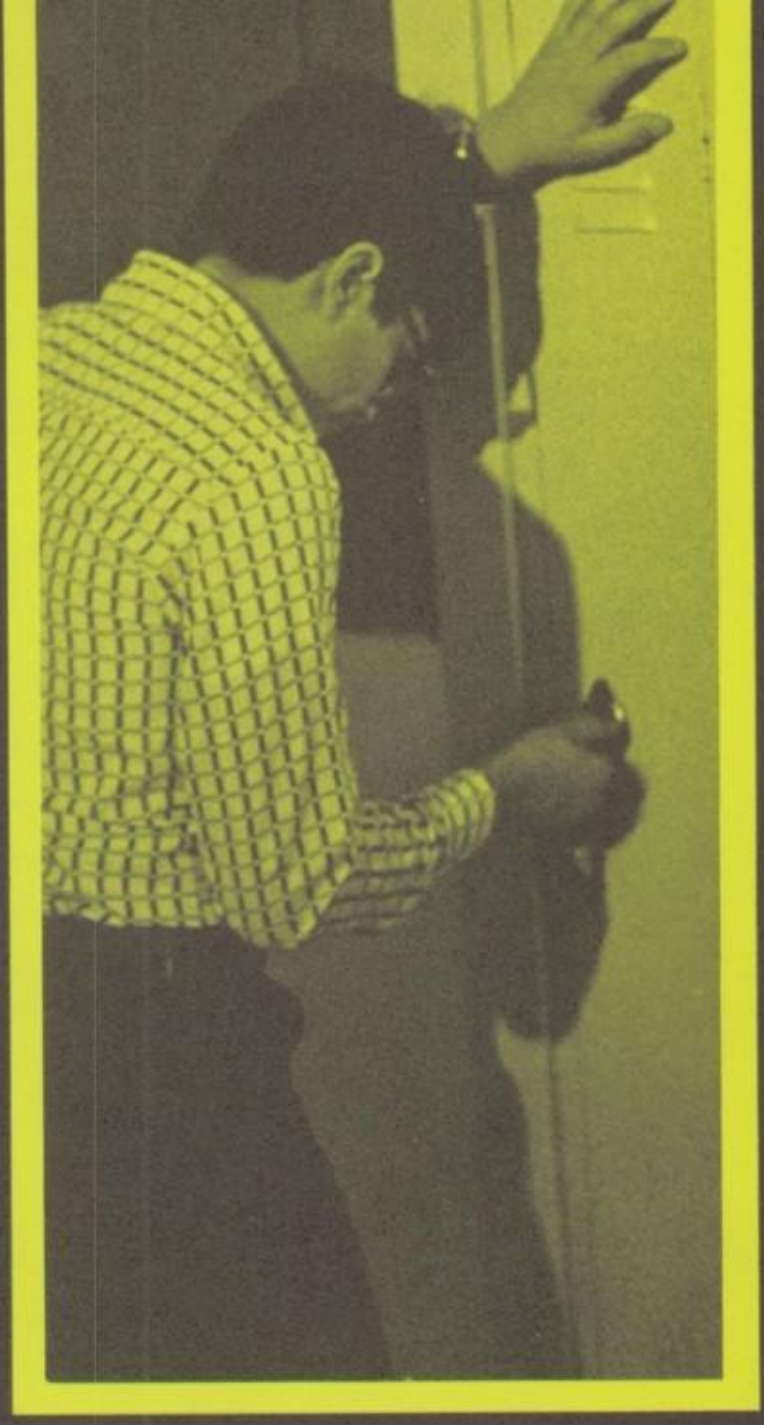
Learning

Increases Potential

Acquisition of knowledge is a primary aspect of the four years of high school.
A successful performance is a plateau to strive for, yet it is only the first step into a vast range of learning.
The knowledge learned in the school, together with those lessons learned outside the class, prepare an academic foundation for the student.



Accompanying that pursuit of future success are those personal triumphs of a student's life. Making a deadline, winning a game, "acing" that test, picking up your paycheck . . . These goals are set and rewarded after the effort. As life goes on the goals may become harder to reach, yet, when they are, the personal satisfaction is always worth the effort.

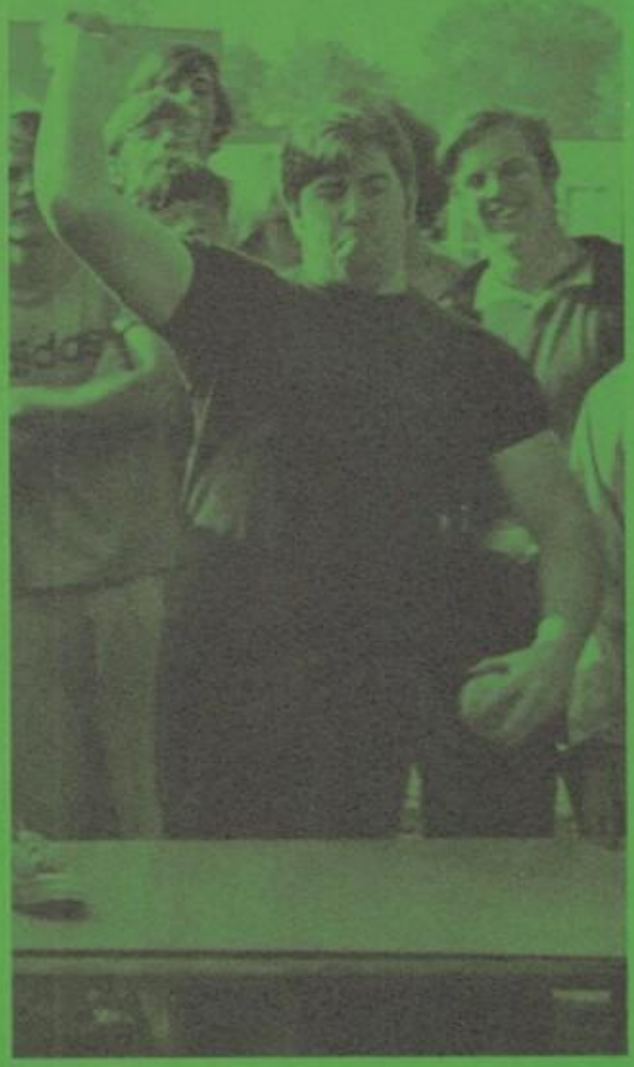


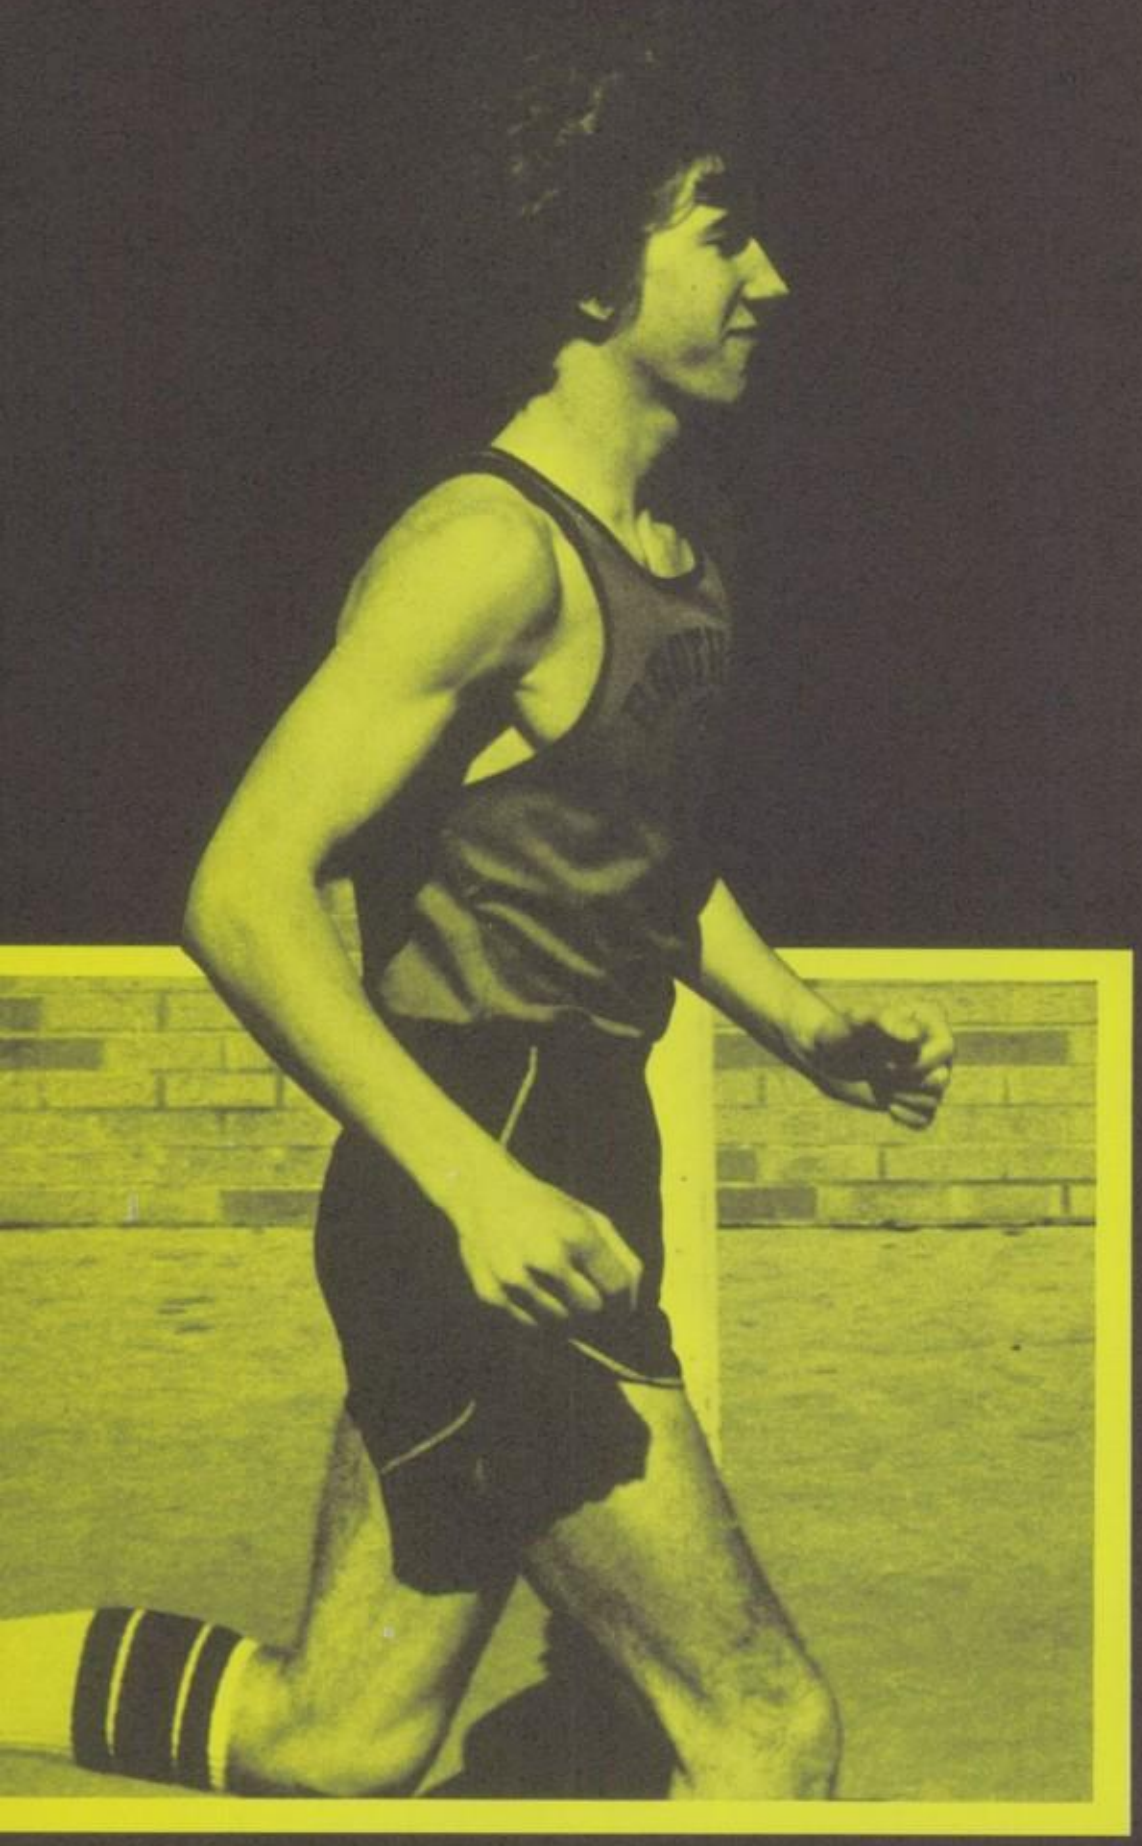
Individuals Anticipate Their Future

Friendships Built During Students Lives

The friends made in a student's life are built to last. The good times and the social life make the high school years the best of a lifetime. Here is something that you won't get a trophy or certificate for. Yet when you're enjoying yourself with others or doing something for them, the reward is in itself and it is unsurpassed.

DYNASTAR





Pursuit of triumph in the game of life takes that same spirit and dedication necessary to get across the goal line, break your own time, or reach home plate. The academic, personal, social, and athletic goals in life are achieved with the guidance of Christ and His servants through the perseverance necessary to make real those dreams of success.

Assemblies Keep Spirit Dynamic

A frequent question which arises in an institution educating over 900 students is how to bring this mass of humanity together to accomplish a common goal. The answer at Brother Rice is the ever-popular assemblies. Ranging from such topics as pep rallies to educational instruction, these assemblies help Brother Rice to become a unified body. The spirit and comradery that they produce are immeasurable. Classes traditionally battle with each other at the energetic assemblies, but school unity always shines through. These asemblies, though not a required course of study, are an important part of the curiculum. The experience gained from fellow students proves to be invaluable in later life.

Student Government Proves Invaluable

Each year a resolution is made stating that the Student Council will do something of notable importance. For the past few years, this resolution has met with nothing but failure. This year, however, Brother Rice students saw an exception to this rule. For the '75-'76 year, the Student Council took up its traditional programs, and adopted some new ones.

This year, the Student Council acted as a governing body over the school, and was often called upon to settle disputes that arose between classes. The Council saw to it that all were treated fairly. Another traditional project seen to this year was the Blood Drive. This was met with much success as members of the junior and senior classes, faculty, and the community donated blood. The Student Council also headed the food drive and Christmas tree projects in December. The '75-'76 Student Council proved its worth and showed that a governing body run by students can be effective.

Competition Aids in Outlet of Enthusiasm

The intramural program creates competition and enthusiasm for the 400 students actively involved. The intramural season starts with football whose finals are exhilerated by the chilling winds of autumn. The bowling season soon starts heated rivalries and the keglers concentrate on "burning up the lanes." Basketball is where the faculty desperately tries to prove its superiority over the students resulting in their devastated egos. The last of the "Big Four" sports is volleyball where our towering giants intimidate those who are on the receiving end of a smash.

The intramural program is again directed by Keith MacGuidwin and Doug Geheb and administered by Brother Segvich and Brother Favero.

Quest Staff Strives Toward Quality Book

Brother Rice is known for its outstanding yearbook. Under the careful planning and direction of past staffs and moderators, the Quest has won several awards acknowledging their effort. The Quest is the winner of a medalist and second-place certificates from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

This year, the Quest staff hopes to publish a truly outstanding book. Managing Editor, Don Condit, and Section Editors, Greg Gossick, Larry Smith, Vic Geha, and Dan O'Leary, direct the staff with the knowledge and patience necessary to maintain unity. The staff itself, though somewhat inexperienced, is full of enthusiasm toward the Quest's completion. Viewing the reviewing each other's work, they criticized and applaud potential yearbook material.

Wrapping up the entire year in one small book is an extremely difficult and confusing task. This year's staff, undaunted by the enormity of the job, pressed on toward the completion of this Quest. If the book reflects the amount of effort put into it, it should undoubtedly continue the fine publication traditions of Brother Rice.

Journalists Add Changes, Color to Paper

This year with Br. Reeves as moderator, and John Birney as managing editor, the school newspaper, the Chieftain, openly and actively looked into the affairs of the school.

With the release of the first newspaper, many new changes were evident. The format of the paper was different, as it had six pages this year to only four last year. The Masthead used this year was new as was the photographic system. John Birney quickly gained recognition, both good and bad, with his hard driving and well researched editorials. Jim Hallemann had a record review column, which although debatable at times, certainly was innovative.

Again this year, the paper dealt with the affairs of Brother Rice and its extracurricular activities. Reporters were at almost every event and many evenings they could be seen still at school putting the final touches on their work.

Always enjoyable were Jim Hallemann's "Dates to Forget" and Frank Flood's excellent cartoons. Again this year, the April Fool's edition, entitled "The Griefton", was well received.

The staffs excellent journalism was added to by Dave Clauss, who worked on layouts, John Kispert, feature stories, Ross Marino and Jon Konkal, photography, and Steve Perna, sports.

Silver Tongued Orators Overcome Opposition

"That the development and allocation of scarce world resources shall be controlled by an international organization" was the topic debated across the nation by high school teams. The Brother Rice Debate Team worked diligently throughout the summer in preparation for the long season and was rewarded by an excellent season.

In the Catholic League, Coach Dave Gugala qualified an impressive 2 teams for the Catholic National Debate Finals to be held in Detroit in late May. Seniors John Birney, Juniors Chris Maben, and Gerry Staeger, with Sophomore Kieran Mullen will travel the distance in search of a second straight national award for the team.

In the novice division, Rod McLachlan, Dave Pietrowski, Greg Bousquette, and Carl Bazil took an extremely impressive second place, defeating the expected powers of the league.

Competing in the State tournament, Birney, Maben, Mullen, and Staeger beat the number one team in the state in the preliminary rounds and placed ninth in Class B.

Philharmonic Melodies Rise from Musicians

The 1975-1976 Band is probably the most gifted group of musicians ever at Brother Rice. With the emergence of a strong upperclass and an unusually gifted underclass this year's band is praised by all who have heard their music. They have many credits to their name: the Southeastern Michigan Marching Band Festival, the Berkley Christmas Parade, the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association, many concerts and a trip to Chicago for the St. Patrick's Day Parade. To make all these activities possible the band members sold candy to make money to finance their endeavors. The band was again directed by Mr. James Collins and moderated by Brother Charles McKenna. Because of all the effort put forth by all involved the band had one of its most successful years ever.

Spirit at Rice has taken a turn for the better. The annual Homecoming activities coupled with Field Day helped to give Rice's spirit a major shot in the arm. Ironically, it was intense class rivalry which helped to bring the school together.

Field Day began with the usual assembly, with rousing cheers and hilarious skits. After the assembly, when the tradition had been for most students to leave, the events began. However, on this particular Field Day, that tradition was broken. Most of the student body, including a surprising number of Seniors, became involved in all events as they pulled for their classes to become "Number One". All of these events were merely "sideshows" leading up to the main attraction: the ever-popular chariot race which was won by the Seniors. At the awards assembly, afterwards, the excited crowd received startling news; the Senior chariot had been disqualified! However, the Seniors found that victory tastes sweet after all as the points were totalled proclaiming them as champions of the day.

The Football Warriors also found the path to victory as they triumphed to the tune of 10-0 over arch-rivals, Catholic Central.

To celebrate the victory and to conclude the week-end, "Kaleidoscope" provided dancing music and a dazzling show for the receptive crowd at the Homecoming Dance.

The revival of Field Day festivities and super involvement from students and faculty alike made the 1975 Boy's Bowl the huge success that it was. Spirit was elevated to a point that had not been reached in recent years. Hopefully, this spirit will continue for many years to come.

Mothers Club Gives Needed Assistance

The 1975-76 Brother Rice Mothers Club headed by Mrs. Polsinelli, and moderator Brother Oehrle has again upheld the quality of this indispensible organization. This year the major fund raising activity proved to be quite successful as the Sun & Cash Raffle raised over $9000.00 for the benefit of the educational facilities here at Rice. Among the years many activities were the St. Pat's Luncheon, a Christmas party and the very successful dinner dance at Red Run Country Club. These social occasions gave parents of Rice students a chance to become more familiar with each other. It can easily be seen that with a concrete organization as the Mothers Club to back up Rice activities and needs, the future will be bright and even more successful.

Fathers' Generosity Facilitates Expansion

Once again, this year, the Brother Rice Dad's Club was an organization that helped our school immensely. Their job was to serve and assist the Christian Brothers in meeting the needs and fulfilling the goals of a Christian education. They were very successful in regard to their objectives this year. Under the guidance of president Mr. Terrence Nagle and moderator Br. Oehrle the Dad's Club was able to meet all challenges. Their support at Bingo, the successful Boys Bowl Weekend and most athletic events, among other, contributed to their success. The two new auxiliary classrooms were a direct result of the successful Bingo programs. The hard work and generosity of those concerned fathers is a primary factor of the success of the school and community.

MUN Proposals Offer International Solutions

For one long weekend a year, students from several area high schools gather in the Marian High School Auditorium to debate and resolve international problems facing the world today. Proposals submitted by the student delegates of the 97 countries represented were ammended and voted upon by the future politicians.

Leading the convocation were Rice's Pat McDonnell, and Marian's Ann McGill, Leigh Convery and Kate McCormick. Through their calming of eccentric delegates and arbitrating parliamentary disputes, they led one of the most organized Assemblies ever.

The recent International United Nations decision regarding Zionism as Racist was the subject of major debate in the afternoon in Sunday's General Assembly. After delegates from most of the representing nations had voted for, questioned, or condemned the bill; they voted not to recind it.

The excellent performances of Seniors; Bill Gillett, John Andrews, Paul Fitzsimmons and Chairman Pat McDonnell, Juniors; Chris Maben and Matt Bousquette, and Sophomores; Kiernan Mullen and Dave Pietrowski were rewarded with seats in the National U.N. in Georgetown.

Declining Spirit Gets Enthusiastic Boost

There are rumors travelling through the Br. Rice community that school spirit is just not what it used to be. The students at Rice have treated two State Championships as if they had been everyday occurrences and scoff at anything less than perfection. Through these actions, many feel that Rice spirit is spoiled.

The main objective of both the Pep Club and the Cheerleaders and their moderator, Br. Kramer, is to return vitality to the school's overall spirit and, in so doing, give the athletic teams the encouragement necessary to achieve greatness.

Both groups are headed by talented and dedicated leaders. The Pep Club has Mike Lynch, Bob Menzies, and Dave Clauss at the helm and Tim Kelleher, Bryan McMahon, and Paul Hartge are the Cheerleader co-captains. These leaders, along with their industrious staffs, are determined to accomplish their goals and make Brother Rice "number one" once again.

Musical 'Mame' Captures Uncommon, Varied Talent

This year, as in past years, people at Brother Rice and Marian began to ask others if they knew who was in this year's drama production. When provided with an answer, many of their responses consisted of only one word: "Who?". Although many of the stars and chorus members have little or no previous experience, their enthusiasm and obvious talent rise far above their poor pre-requisites. And to perform this year's play, "Mame", they needed a great amount of patience and dedication along with that enthusiasm.

The play begins in the late 1920's and runs through the '50's, so the chorus had to learn many different dance steps representative of these years. Brother Dogan, director of the play, worked feverishly to pull the show together for its debut. Marian teachers Mrs. Anderson, Miss Badura, and Mrs. Bronson helped with music, costumes, and choreography with Brother Smyth and Cindy Forester contributing to other "backstage" preparations such as scenery and props.

Elaine Kovac was cast in the title role with Mike Asher playing her young nephew, Patrick, and Jim Birchler as Older Patrick. Many other talented thespians completed the cast, combining hard work and cooperation to make a success.

THIS PAGE: Above, John Andrews attempts to halt the proceedings and explain to these aspiring young actors and actresses that the Charleston must be performed with much more style and grace than the wild jumping and waving which they seem to be doing. Middle, flanked by young worshippers, Vera, (Pam Partlan), performs her "Moonlady" solo at one of the most climactic moments of the show. Below, chorus members pan the heavens in search of the "Moon Goddess" as Mame, (Elaine Kovac), triumphantly proves that the man-in-the-moon is actually a lady.

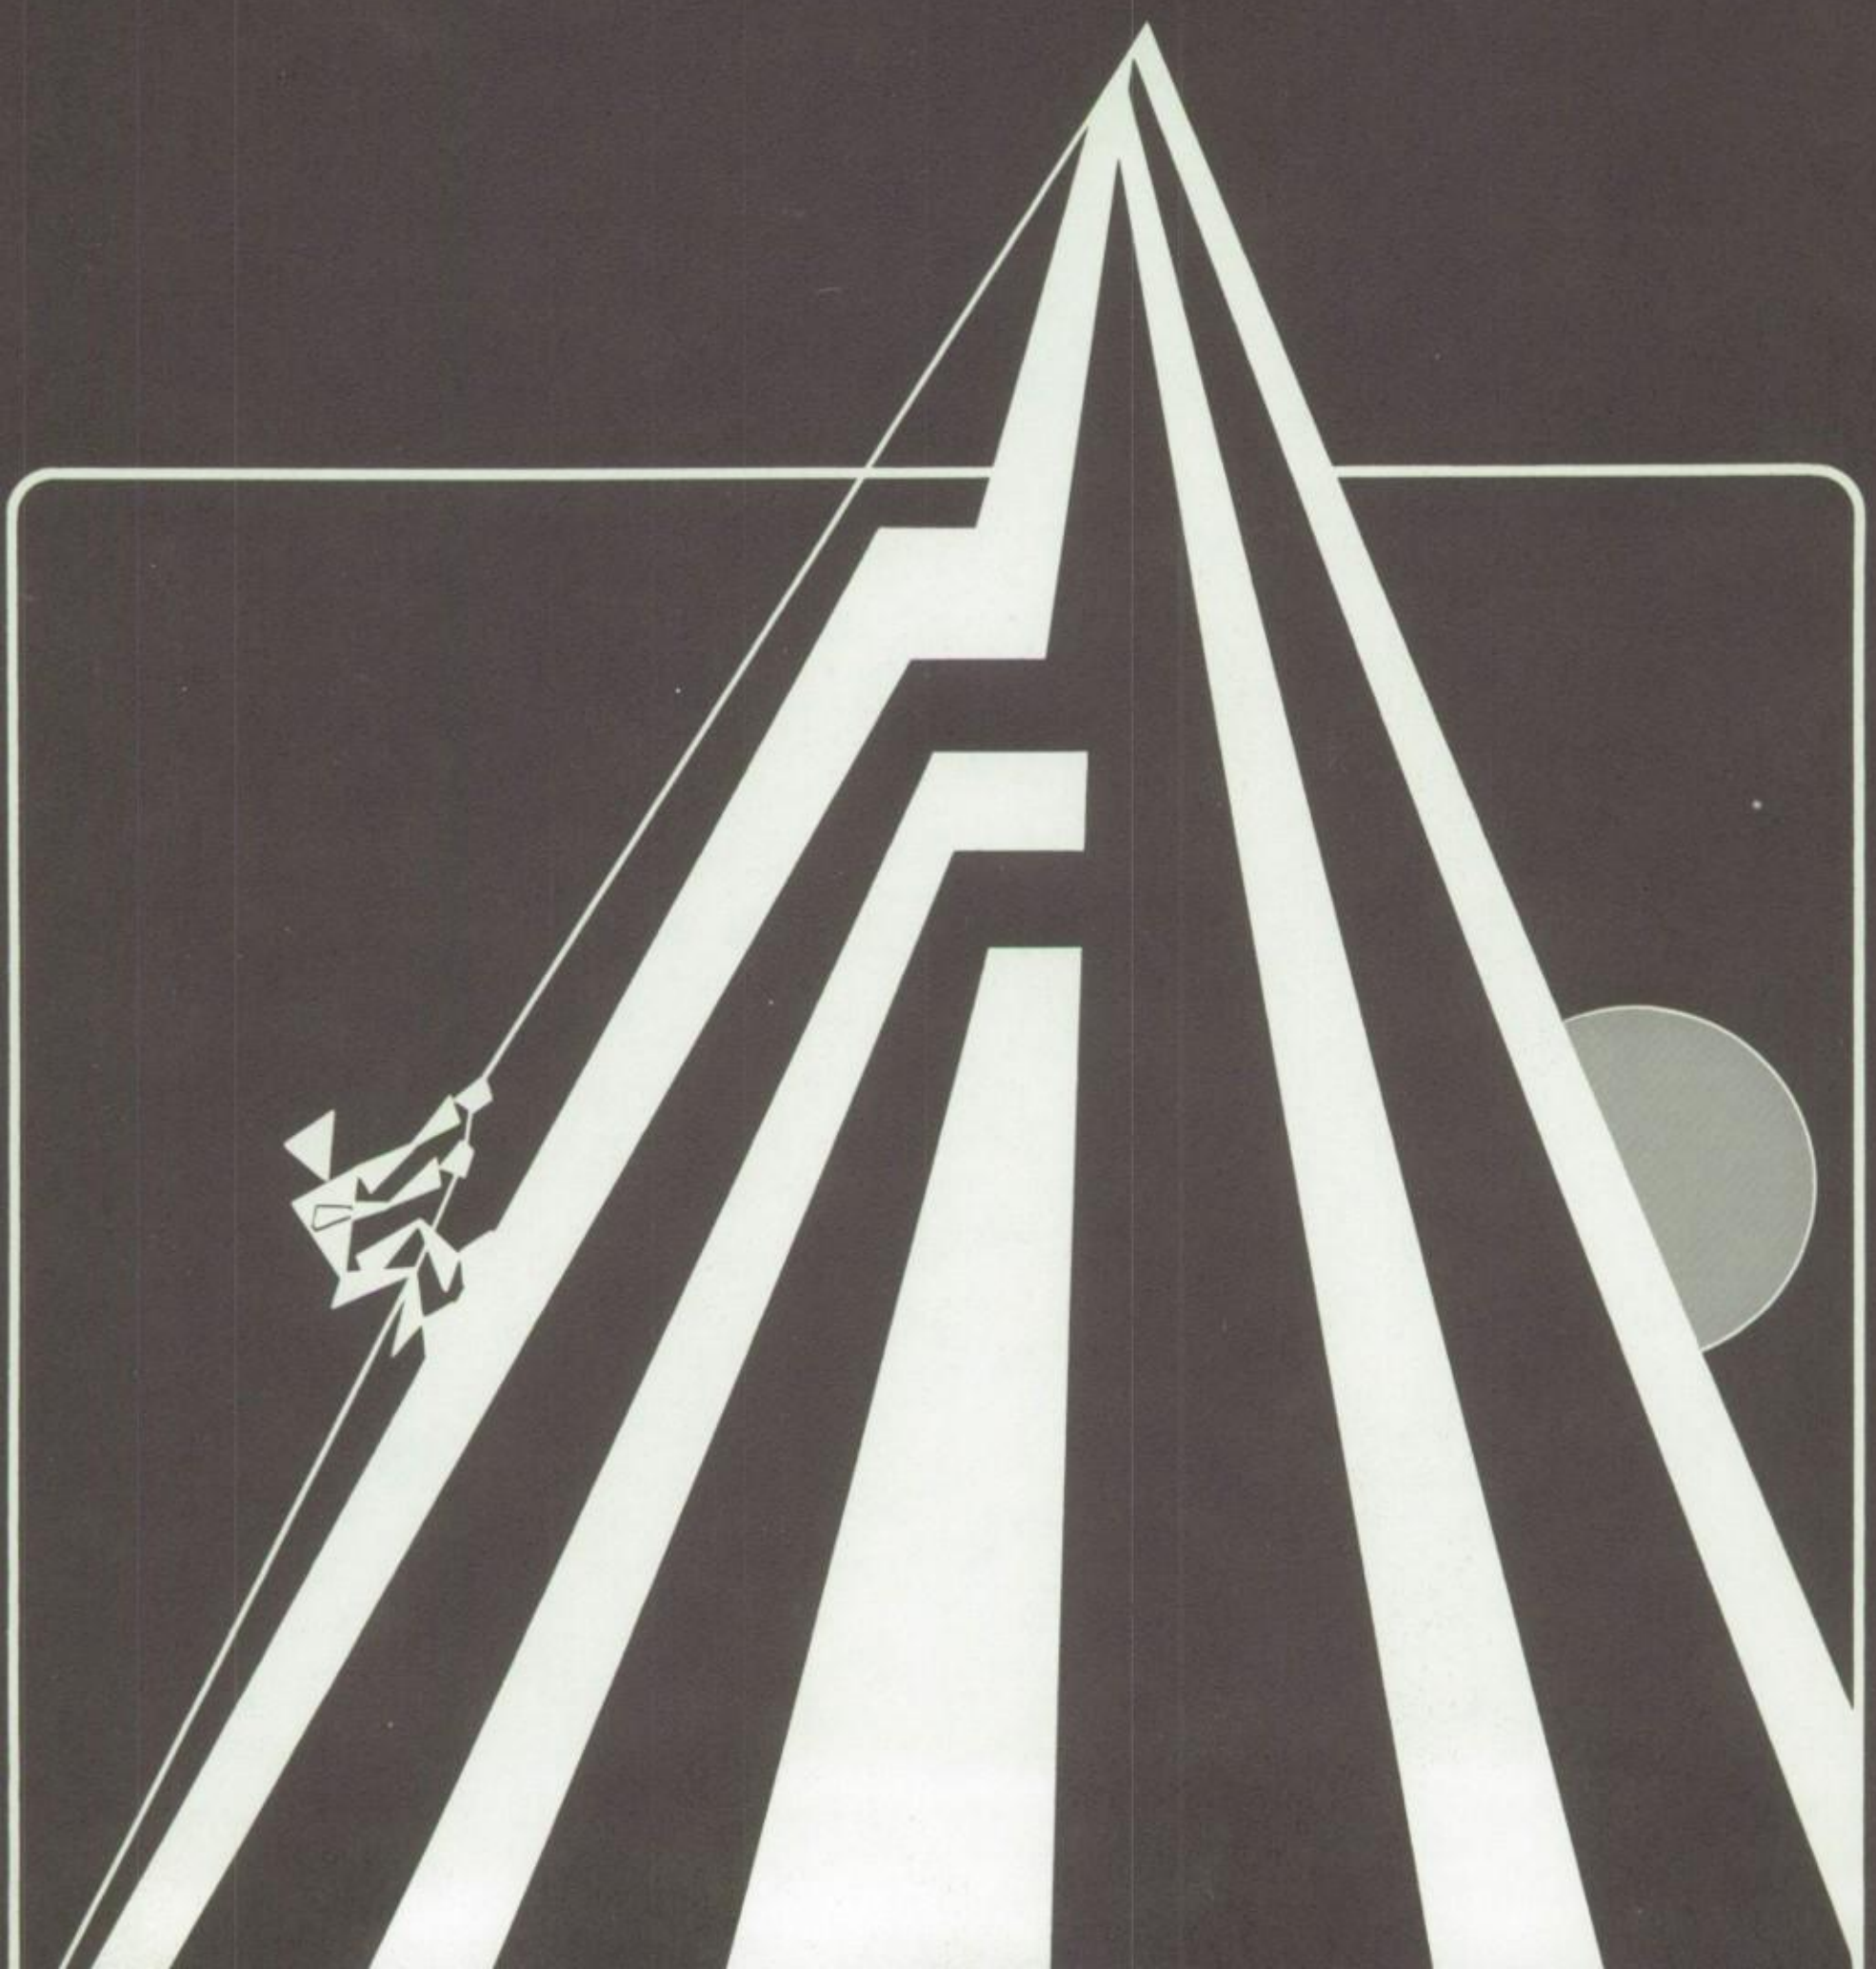
UNDERCLASS



Freshmen Develop Thru Confidence, Aid

The Freshman year of the Class of 1979 will probably not be remembered by many people outside the class itself. For them it was a year of anxiety and growth and unlike so many other Freshman years it proved to be a year of exceptional success.

Enlisting a few apprehensive members of the faculty and with the aid of a dunk tank, the class became financially sound early in the year inspite of an expensive fourth place homecoming float. The post Christmas Dance added a sizeable sum to the class treasury not withstanding the poor weather conditions. Bingo and basketball concessions also added to the class' financial success.

Along with the financial success the class found members from within its ranks who proved to be good leaders who aided in making the class a united group.

Soph's Confidence Responsibility,Grow

After surviving their first year the sophomore has completed his first step in high school. The initiations and jokes are over, he can now recognize the many advantages which were unforseen to him as a freshman. His surroundings have changed from the new and strange world of a freshman to one of familiarity which comes in one's second year at an institution such as Brother Rice. Now is the time when freshmen goals and ideals are reset and adjusted to fit the broadening scopes of a sophomore.

He is now treated with more responsibilities, priveledges, and freedom. He also discovers himself more firmly entrenched in high school life, beginning to emerge as an individualized person. The class is transformed into a whole unit, a clear result of this unity was the effort displayed in the float competition where the sophomores took second place.

Diversified Junior Class Prepares for Future Responsibility

A Junior is a young, flourishing and growing individual, who begins to accept responsibilities that come with age. He is a young man who begins to focus in on his choice of college and profession. Junior year allows new freedoms, activities, and opportunities which provide valuable learning experience, and great enjoyment for those who get involved. The officers play a vital role in the success of the class and this years officers have shown great dedication towards their duties and always have the best interest of the class in mind. The class of '77 has already proved itself one of the most spirited classes ever at Rice, and will continue to prove themselves in the future.

Seniors' Achievements Reflect Character

The Class of 1976 was the latest to leave their mark on the halls of Brother Rice. Through their involvement in extracurricular activities they have progressed from all accepting freshmen adolescents to self thinking individuals who are now stepping into adulthood. The student in his senior year is faced with the responsibility of making decisions which will affect the remainder of his life. These decisions deal with colleges, jobs, moral issues and politics. As they look in retrospect upon their years in high school, this year's seniors will find that Brother Rice is still a part of them as a result of the knowledge and the experiences they gained. One of the more important facts they learned was that satisfaction was gained not by being a follower but by becoming a social leader.

School spirit is essential for the unity of Brother Rice. This spirit was supported by the seniors throughout the school year in the forms of organizations and activities. Frosh Fun Night was reorganized in order to introduce the facilities and extracurricular activities to the freshmen. Senior management of the Quest, Chieftain, Student Council and Pep Club was essential for the existence and success of these organizations. Their support at athletic activities was welcomed and marked by giving the team an added incentive to win.

Throughout their four years in high school the seniors' list of accomplishments is great in number, both athletically and academically. In addition to contributing to two state championships, individual recipients gained All State, All League and All Area honors. Academically, 9 commended students were chosen by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation while the State of Michigan Competitive Scholarship program selected 25 senior semifinalists and 6 Michigan Mathematics semifinalists were named.

Extended Range of Electives Build Base for College Curriculum

Senior year courses are made up mostly of electives which enable each student to choose classes that are interesting to him. The school has responded by offering a wide variety of courses that give the student valuable knowledge and a necessary background for their future needs in a college environment. By giving the senior practical examples of every day work in certain fields, these classes allow him to make a decision concerning his future profession.

An example of the expanded senior curriculum was shown by the English Department which offered six different courses ranging from the revived and popular Film Study program to the wonders and imagination of Science Fiction. Other electives were composed of higher math and science courses, business, psychology and mechanical drawing.

Momentos of Past Recall Good Times

End of Years Culminated by Graduation, Prom, Farewells

On May 23, 1976, the day that had been looked forward to by many finally arrived. On this day 224 young men congregated at Ford Auditorium to take part in one of the largest and most important events of their lives—graduation from high school. During this ceremony, each student received a diploma, which represented the completion of high school. But in reality the diploma is an award which represents four years of diligent work and fond memories of past experiences which began on the first day of freshman year and culminated with the graduation ceremony. The diploma is also a personal achievement that represents a feeling of success and satisfaction to each individual who fulfilled the requirements of graduation by taking courses that interested him.

This Bicentennial Year has many things in common with the graduating class and the signers of the Declaration of Independence. In spite of the diversification of the Seniors they are bonded together by the fact that they are now entering into adulthood and that it is now their responsibility to give the world the answers it awaits and needs.

Br. Rice Nine Captures Catholic League First Division Crown at Tiger Stadium

With the beginning of spring and the season lingering in the upcoming months, a determined varsity baseball team began its practices in the mornings during February. As the practices continued into the season a feeling of confidence arose. The idea of a championship team became a realization.

Led by five all-leaguers and solid pitching, the Warriors raced to an 8-2 league record and a share of the Central Division title. Since Rice and Notre Dame had tied for first place a playoff game was played to determine which team would represent the Central Division in the Catholic League playoffs. The Warriors soundly defeated a strong Irish team 7-1 and then continued its offensive surge in defeating Detroit Benedictine 14-1 enabling them to play at Tiger Stadium for the final game for only the second time in the team's history. Unlike the first time, however, the Warriors beat a tough Bishop Gallagher team 2-1 in eight innings. For the first time Br. Rice captured the Catholic League First Division title. With that win, the Warriors closed out a fine season with a 23-8 overall record.

Team's Highest Recognition Achieved in State Competition

The 1975 tennis team continued the winning tradition established by its predecessors. Once again beating all schools in the Catholic League, except Austin, and finishing as runner up for the League Championship.

Senior Captain Mike Farah led the team with an outstanding 14 and 2 record in Number one singles, completing a highly successful high school tennis career. Mike teamed up with sophomore Paul Heinen to win the Regional doubles, and placed third in the State tournament. Both were awarded All State tennis honors for their impressive play.

Among those returning for the upcoming season will be underclass lettermen Paul Heinen, Brian Keating, and Sky Hamill, all of whom are three year veterans. Together with the dedication and leadership of Coach Don McKercher, they will be a team to watch.

Seasons' Efforts, Stamina Rewarded With Championship Titles

The 1975 Track Team once again displayed the capability of maintaining the traditional past Rice dynasty as they captured the Central Division crown with a perfect 5-0 league record. The team made an impressive showing in the State Regionals earning a second place finish and culminated a successful season by defeating their opponents for a second place finish in the Eccentric Relays.

Along with the team's achievements, many individuals also had very successful personal season performances in the events. Among these people were the 1975 captains of the team; Chris Nagle, Jeff Paulsen, and Dave Wurster as well as team-mates; Kevin Collins, Curt Griffin, Pierre DePorre, Mark Dyar, Jim Wilberding, and Kevin Ryan. For a good part of the year the team was slowed down due to injuries to Jim Lievois and Mark Warner. Hard work and endurance paid off as they accomplished a great goal of success.

To make the season a total success, Coach Michael Popson was awarded the Coach of the Year for the Catholic league. With the return of most of last year's team and coaches, the 1976 season should be another promising year for the returning tracksters.

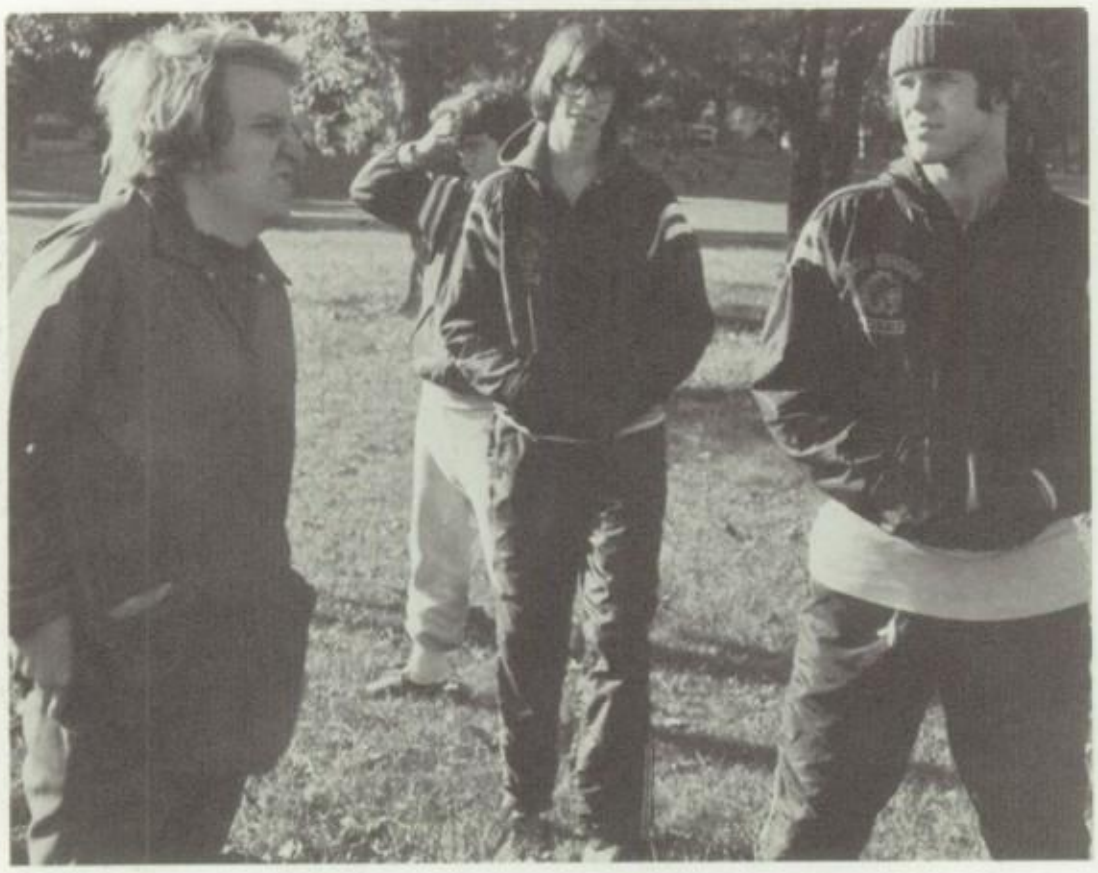
Golfers Seasonal Struggle For Title Continues

With the combined talents of Kevin Lynch, Jon Ankenbrandt, Mike Hayes, Mike Roach, and Tim Beale, the Varsity Golfers achieved an overall record of 8 wins, 9 losses, and 2 ties. Their Catholic League record was 4-4-2. The Linksters, guided by the most capable Brother Wielatz, were edged out by De La Salle on the last day of the season, and lost the chance of a possible tie for first place and the Central Division Championship. However, they played much better than their record showed. In the Oakland County Tournament, the golfers tied for first place in a field of 37 teams. The Linksters placed 7th out of 22 teams in the regionals. Kevin Lynch was medalist in each tournament with 80 and 78 respectively. The team average for the year was 41.6 per nine holes or 6.6 strokes over par for the matches played.



Key Injuries Destroy Championship Dreams

Through the long and hot summer months the Brother Rice Cross Country team prepared themselves for the 1975 season. The pre-season meets and Invitational were met with success and the crushing of Notre Dame in the opening meet paved the way for an undefeated season and Central Division Championship. As the season progressed Coach Bob Stark and company gained pride and confidence as they approached the championship meets. Yet illness and injury struck the team in the final month of the season. Without Captains Jeff Funk and Mark Giblin the team finished a dissappointing 9th place in the Catholic League Meet even with Paul Manza's fine third place finish. In the Regionals Manza and Giblin earned All Regional honors as they led the team to a third place finish in the highly competitive meet.

After a highly successful season the team failed to live up to their high ratings in the State Meet. The cold and damp November day at the Grand Blanc golf course saw the team finish a disappointing 20th. Once again Paul Manza ran a great race but the team failed to follow his pace. Paul finished a fourth place and was awarded on All State Stripe for his excellent season.

The 1975 Brother Rice Cross Country earned the schools 75th Cross Country victory finishing 76-12. Coach Stark finished the season with a 42-3 record making him the most successful coach in the history of Brother Rice.

Practice, Poise, Pride Attributes of Champions
Warriors Eliminated in League Playoffs

Success is a relative term. The 1975 Warrior football squad won its division championship, and carried the winning streak from the '73 season to 22 games. Under normal conditions this would be considered successful. Yet due to the strong tradition of football excellence at Rice, the season was rather disappointing. An upset loss to Divine Child in the Catholic League Championship game extinguished any hopes for a berth in the state playoffs.

Injuries to Mike Cullen and Mark Warner eliminated an experienced running attack for the offensive team, forcing quarterback Don Hendricks, who was most valuable player, to undertake the responsibility of rushing as well as passing.

Rice's awesome defense led by captain K. C. Ryan was one of the nation's finest whose first string shut out all nine opponents. The team featured Ryan and Dan MacLean, the top linebacking duo in the state, unstoppable tackles Jay McGlinchey, Steve Fuller, and Steve Arkwright and a consistent pass defense. The necessary ingredients to gridiron success forcing turnovers, sacking quarterbacks, blocking punts, and in general coming up with the big play were the staple of the '75 defensive team. (and season).

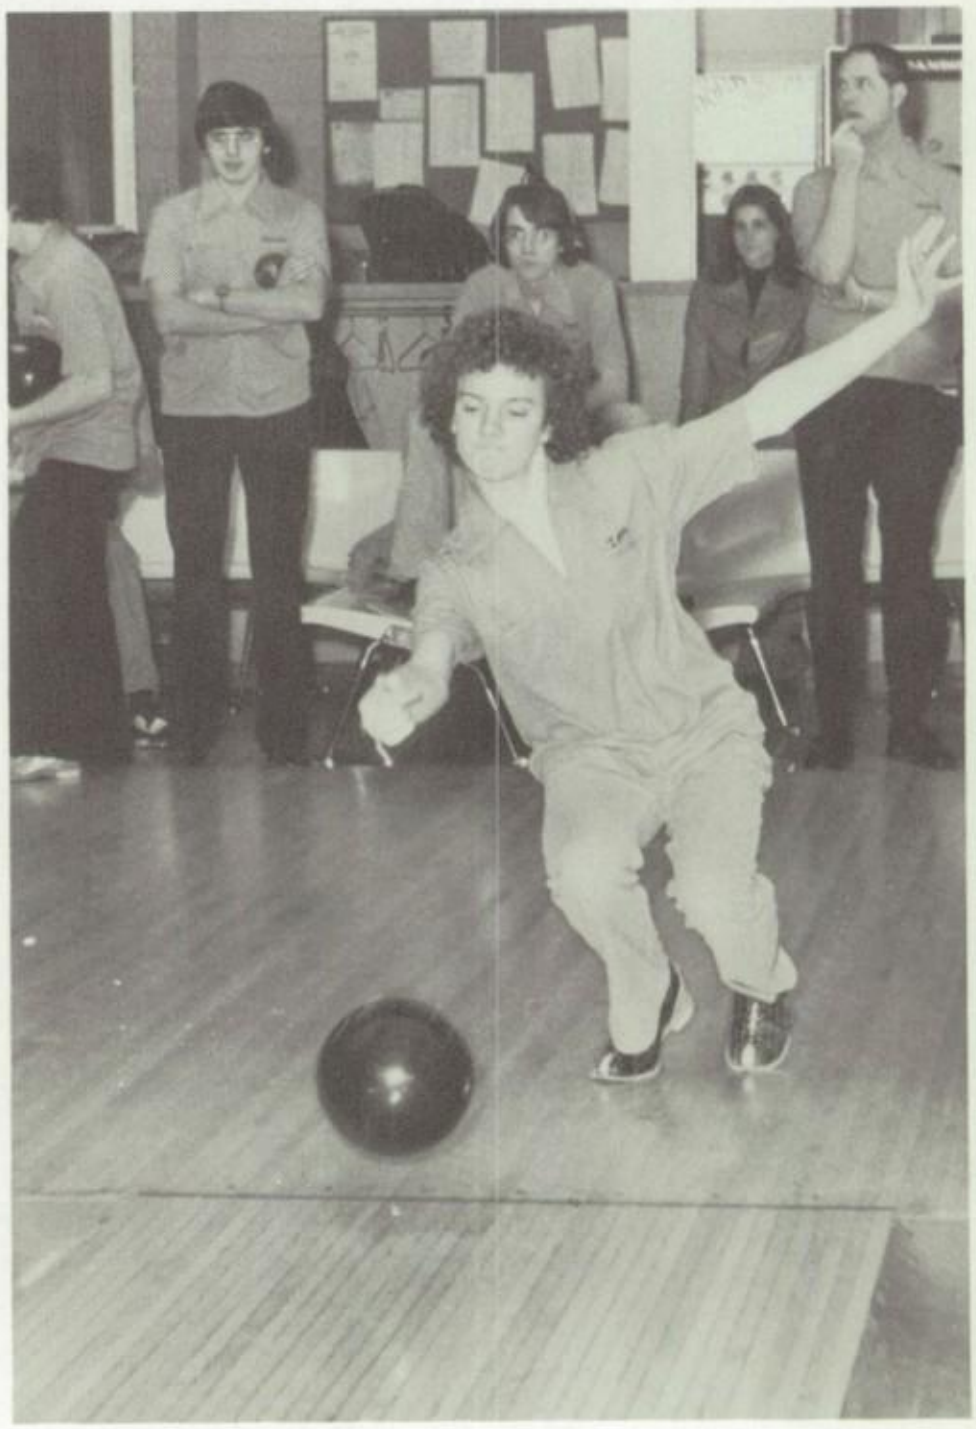
Stroking Warriors Strike Down Opponents For Shot at Crown



Prior to the official opening of the 1975-1976 bowling season, the Rice Keglers had already established themselves as definite contenders for the Catholic League crown. Coach Br. Favero organized an impressive Varsity squad fortunate enough to have a strong nucleus of Juniors and Seniors who had previously demonstrated their championship caliber. As the competitive bowling began, the Varsity Rice-men charged to an early lead in the standings and swept by its competitors in the first half insuring a play off spot.

The Junior Varsity bowlers ran into extremely hard luck during their valiant quest for the title. Due to the large amount of handicap pins awarded to their opponents, close defeats constantly plagued the team throughout the first half of the season. In the league finals the young bowlers split a disappointing series when they needed three points to win.

Taking an early lead in the second half of the season the Varsity Bowlers continued their league domination. When they only needed one game to clinch the Catholic League Crown the overconfident team gave way to Bishop Borgess who took all four points.

Ski Team Challenges Precipitous Courses

The bountiful snow of this past winter gave rise to great expectations of success in the members of the Rice ski team. However the energetic group faced monumental obstacles to victory as the Alpine Valley Division was stocked with superb talent from such state skiing powers as Andover and Walled Lake Central. In spite of this fierce competition, the young Warriors rallied and established a commendable league record of 3 wins versus 3 losses. This enabled the skiers to seize third place, for their second highest finish ever.

The southeastern regionals afforded the Ricemen a chance to attain statewide recognition, but unfortunately they proved unequal to the task. Out of 14 teams engaged in competition, the Rice skiers placed a disappointing fourth, and consequently narrowly missed qualifying for the overall state finals.

Coach Jeff Wilson, in his first year as a member of the Brother Rice athletic staff, proved to be an exceptionally valuable asset to the team. His proven advice, hard work, and unwavering encouragement fostered refined racing techniques and instilled confidence in all the skiers.

Tumbling Exhibitions Bedazzle Audiences

In recent years the sports of tumbling and gymnastics have become the subjects of revised interest here at Brother Rice. An increasing number of enterprising students have been willing to sacrifice time and energy diligently practicing and acquiring the balance and grace that these activities demand. This year, the tumblers have finally received the attention and recognition that their endeavors have always deserved. In a number of thrilling and spectacular performances, the team entertained the appreciative spectators of a Lions game at the Pontiac Stadium and the crowds at many Brother Rice basketball games. In addition, the tumblers have planned community-service displays before the inmates at Jackson State Penitentiary and the Detroit House of Correction.

The coach of the team, Doug Montgomery, who himself is an accomplished gymnast, is primarily responsible for the development of the tumbling program. He has used his extensive knowledge to organize a very professional and coordinated series of maneuvers that draw acclaim from all who witness them. Furthermore, he has refined the talents of the 3 seniors on the squad, and transformed them into very notable and promising athletes.

Title Dreams Falter with Inconsistant Play

The 1976 Warrior Cagers opened up the season with a couple of slight disadvantages. Height, and injuries to Don Hendricks and Kevin Threloff, being among them, were made up by quickness and team unity. After two early season disheartening losses to U of D and Catholic Central, Rice came alive to make a serious run at the Catholic League Crown. Unfortunately, inconsistency plagued them as the Warriors marched into the Catholic League playoffs to face a stunning defeat by DePorres. The season continued to progress as the Warriors faced area rivals losing to Cooley and St. Mary's. The season goal of District, Regional and possibly State Championship was quickly diminished as they were defeated by Seaholm 56-47, in the first round of play in the Districts.

Overall, the season wasn't all that bad as Coach Norton along with his assistants Mr. Maloney and Mr. Hebold worked with a rather limited young team. Much of the team's success has to be attributed to the graduating seniors who made up a great amount of the team. The graduating cagers include starters Don Hendricks, Tom Henry, Keith MacGuidwin, and Jerry Dietz, as well as the power from the bench which came from players like Dan Peters and Junior Tim Schearer and Freshman Tim Andree. All Catholic Honors went to Tom Hunter, Tom Henry, and Don Hendricks. The 1976 graduating senior cagers have truly left a mark of excellence in the Brother Rice basketball program under Coach Bill Norton.

Warrior Pucksters Overcome by Area Rivals

The 1976 Warrior Hockey Season was a rather disappointing one. Due to injuries, inexperience, and generally overall bad luck, the team became the victims of defeat in earning a 7-20 record. Basically a young team led by senior tri-captains Joe Mason, Tim Torrey, and Mickey Jakub, the Warriors main skill was demonstrated physically. Fighting became a popular action in the team's outings, especially against area rivals. Leading scorer for the Warrior pucksters was Tom Torrey with 24 points. Much of the conflicting problems of the team's unsuccessful season was attributed to team disunity and a need for better coaching assistance. Much of the School's Hockey talent was not displayed on the ice because of the Public Leagues intake of many of the fine young players who could be very beneficial towards the success of the Hockey team.

In the years to come, the Warriors should become better as the young players increase their skills as more incoming players are drafted into the successful Brother Rice athletics program.

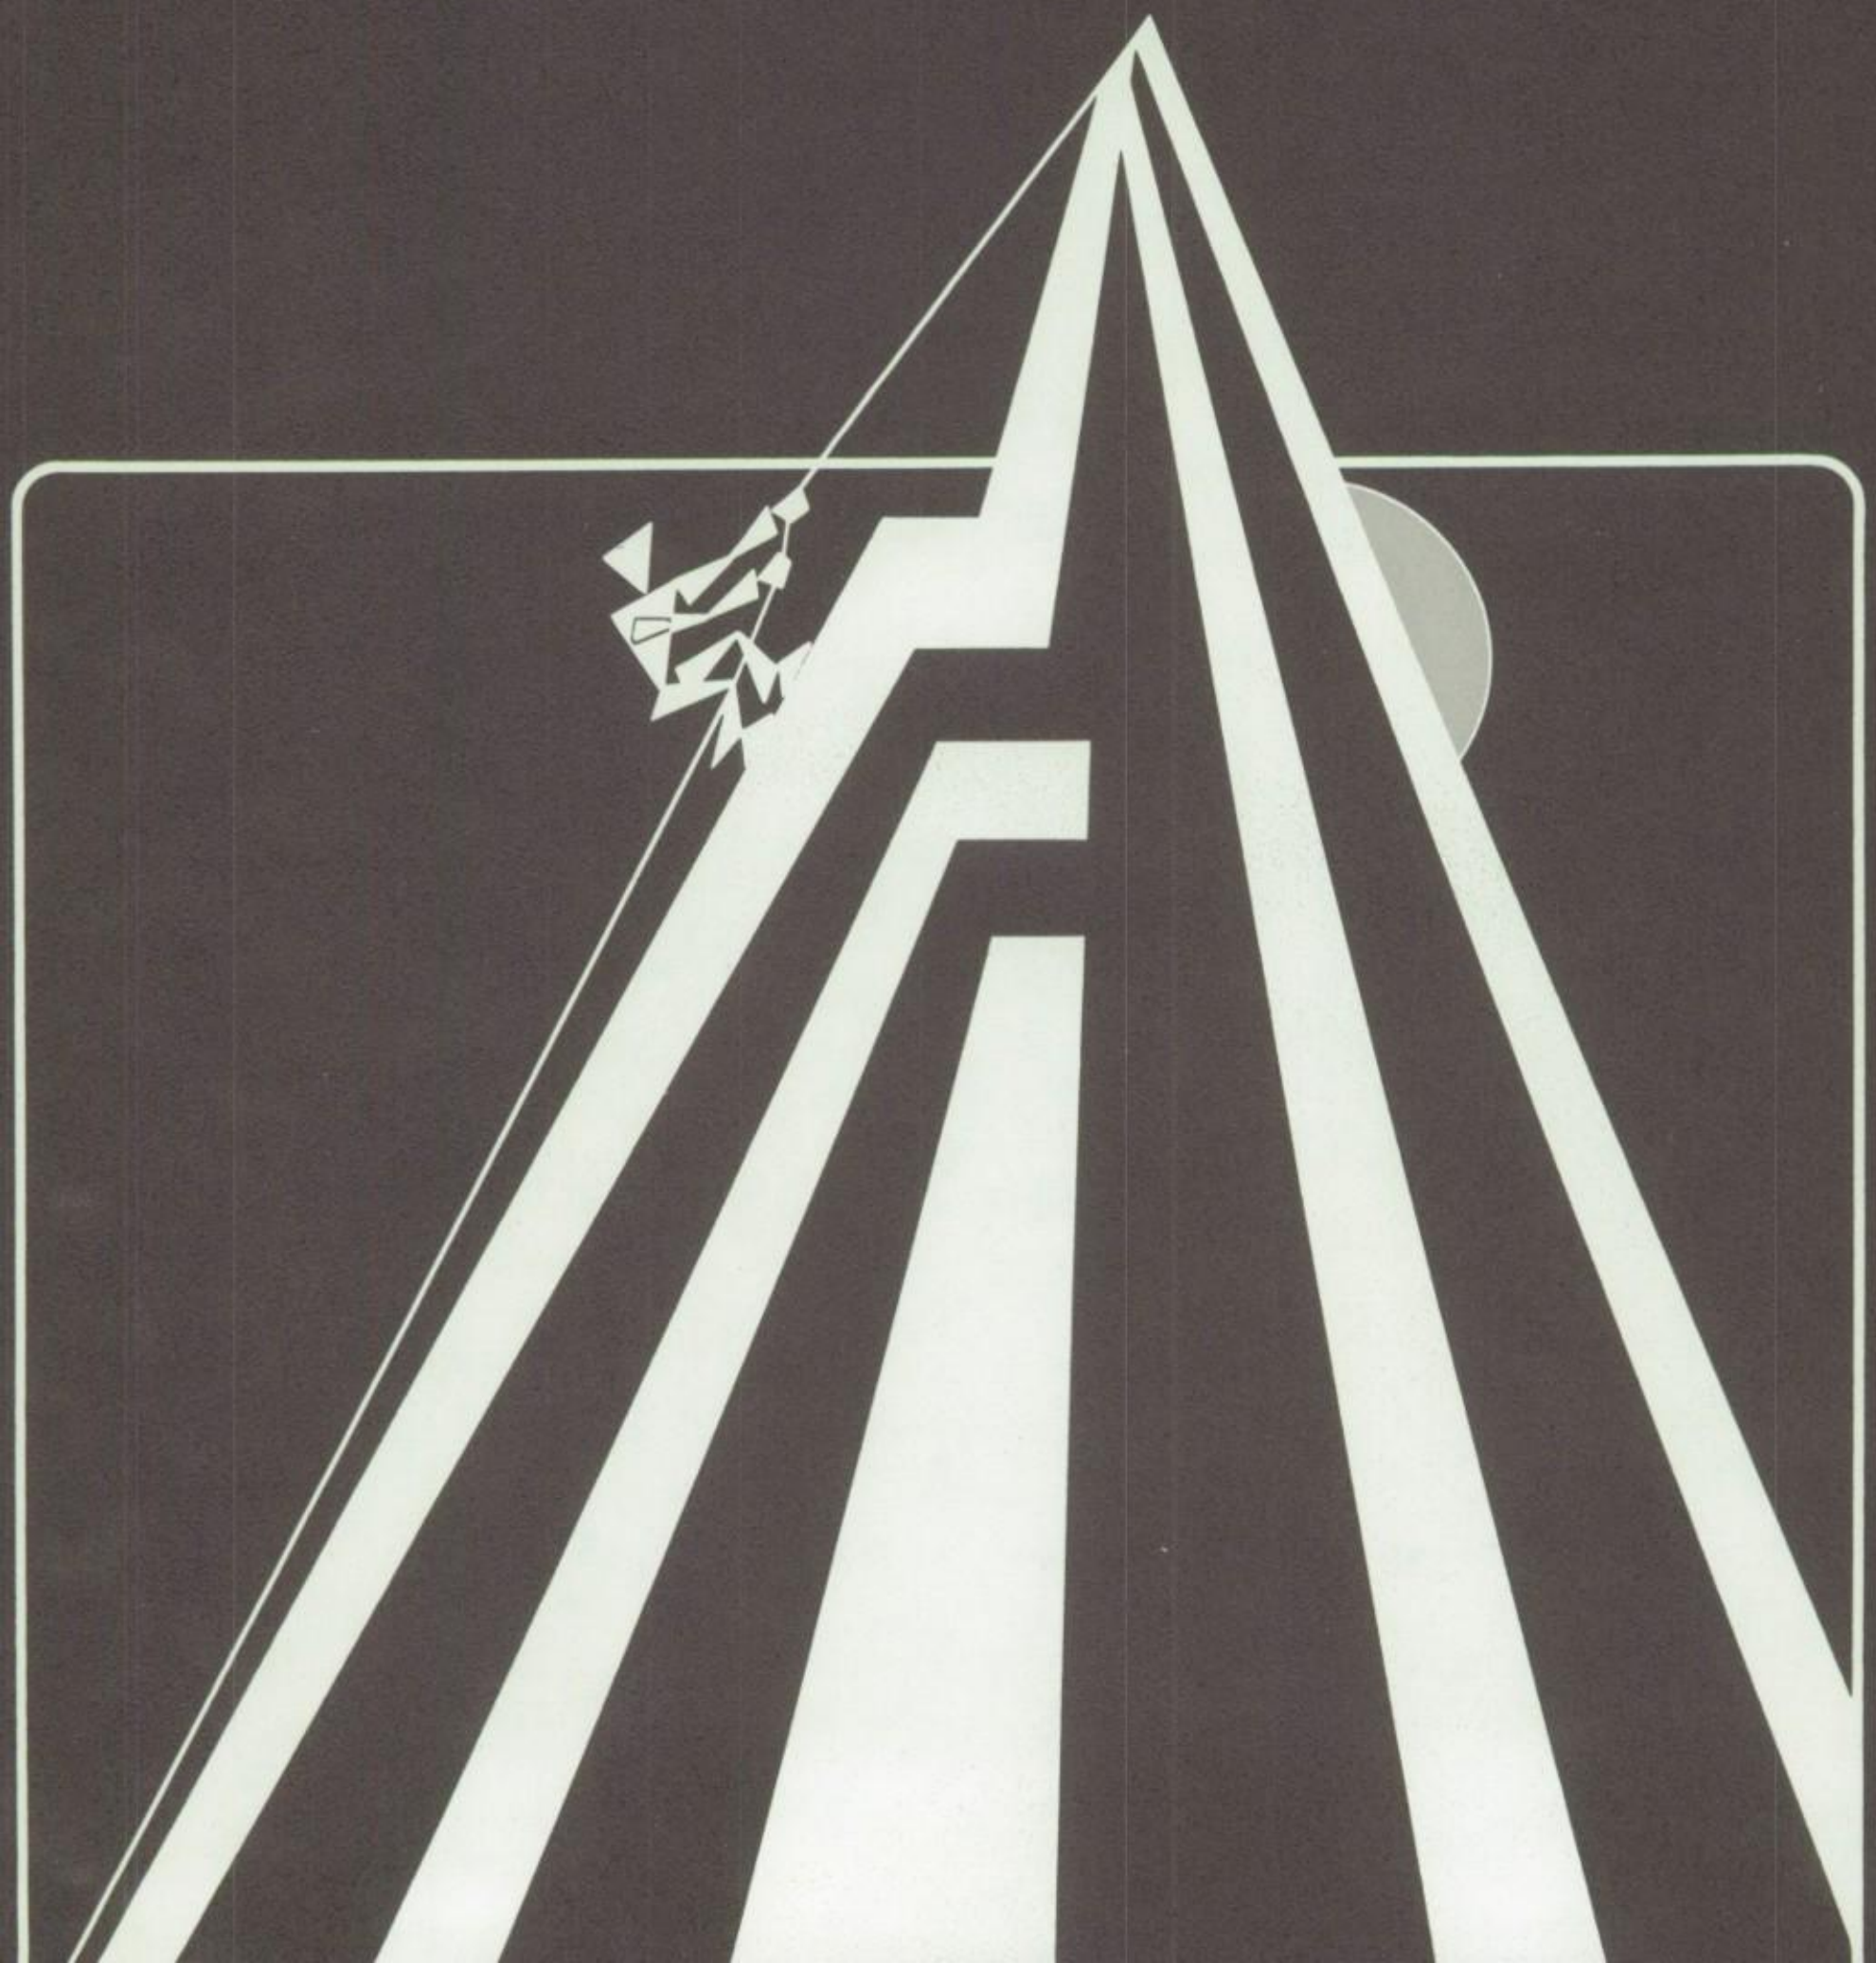
Water Wonders League Champs, Set Records

"Blessed are they who have not seen and still believe" was a motto of the 1976 Swim Team. Their total dedication and sacrifice transformed these everyday students into Coach George O'Brien's Water Wonder Warriors that broke several records and picked up four All State stripes.

The young team was led by the three seniors on the squad; Captains Doug Geheb and Fran LeVeque, and diver Bob Trafeli in their successful season. In spite of their apparent lack of experience, the Warriors churned their way to a respectable second place dual meet finish behind Catholic Central, who handed them their only loss after five victories. The team, with its excellent underclass support and two seniors as anchormen, took several league honors. Many records were set and reset by relay teams and individuals.

The perennial shamrock power fell to the Warriors in the league meet 336-331 as the team took the Catholic League Championships. The successful performance of the team qualified five swimmers for the state meet. Junior Brian Keating placed seventh in the 50 yard freestyle, and the 400 Relay team of senior captain Doug Geheb, juniors Brian Keating and Dennis Ruen, and sophomore Gordon Geheb took ninth in the state. Diving superstar Bart Connors, who reset the school record and pool records in almost every pool he dove in, as well as records at the Oakland County, Detroit News, and Catholic League Meets, failed to make it past the first rounds in the state meet.

FACULTY



An Enlightened Faculty Illuminate the Obscure Corners of Students Minds

Brother Rice High School has always set very high goals in all of its endeavers, a spirit which has been an outgrowth of our faculty. The students have an opportunity to fulfill their desire for their eventual place in our society by the wide variety of courses and the competitiveness of achievement. Through our faculty, the students can benefit from not only the facts that they have learned but also in the many experiences they have gained.

The 1975-1976 faculty is the largest in the history of Brother Rice. All of the instructors are highly qualified and many of them have been associated with the school for a long period of time. Their main goal is to share their knowledge with the students which has created a well-balanced curriculum. Through the versatility of the staff, the Theology and English programs have been expanded during the past year.

The teachers are very generous in sharing their time with students throughout the school year. This is accomplished by giving personal attention to those individuals who need help in or outside the classroom and by supporting and participating in a wide variety of extra-curricular activities.

The Brothers are the nucleus of the faculty's Christian teaching which surrounds the school daily. The Christian atmosphere which is exemplified by the teachers is reflected by the students in their daily activities. Christian spirit within the school can be attested to by the success of the Mission Club and the wide participation in the Focus Hope Project.

With the celebration of our nation's Bicentennial Year, it is a tribute to Brother Rice and its faculty that it has gained statewide acclaim in its academic and extra-curricular activities. With this realization, the members of the faculty and student body can look forward to many more unlimited accomplishments in the future.

Perseverance Rewarded With Success

When we were asked to help out the '75 Quest Staff last spring none of us had any idea what we were in for. Now, looking back, we can see how much we have learned and how hard we have worked to publish this yearbook. Considering the feeling of accomplishment and all that was gained it was well worth all that effort and time. We had a few laughs, a few fights, and even some good times.

Our inexperience was an enormous barrier at times and without the assistance of others it would have been close to impossible. Thanks to Modern Yearbook Company for their help, Mr. Pieronek and Pieronek Studios for their assistance in photography and student photos, and to our moderator, Br. Dogan. The most credit must be given to the members of the staff for the work that they did, and for sticking with it. Thanks also to those friends and contributors who helped us out, or kept us going when it was getting late. This publication is our contribution to the students this year and we hope it presents an accurate and high quality record for every one involved.
